

2006 Haiku Contest Results

FIRST PLACE

Like sleeping tigers
Hungry justices dream of Feasting on verdicts
- Neil McCabe

SECOND PLACE

Chances to win, don't ask...
on motion for rehearing-
impossible task.
- Kirby Hopkins

THIRD PLACE (TIE)

Response requested.
For relator, joy! hope! thrill!
Petition denied.
- Kirsten Castañeda

City of Keller,
Brister's wolf in sheep's clothing.
Can you say, "Reversed"?
- Kelly Kirkland

HONORABLE MENTIONS

Night and day we crammed.
Courthouse doors in our faces slammed.
Hourglass top, no sand.
- Kirby Hopkins

When justices buck
both preference and party
law's majesty reigns
- Neil McCabe

With a mind like a Casteel trap, the judge pausesand then granulates.
- Heidi Bloch

Revising is hard.

No. Tough? Harsh? Tricky? Complex?
Revising is hard.
- Kirsten Castañeda

Why is a haiku
Like an oral argument?
One wrong word - you're screwed
- Kelly Kirklan
